

COMMANDER WEEZER: MISSION TO THE MOON

LOCATION: WHITE SANDS NATIONAL PARK(LUNAR TRAINING GROUNDS)

FRAME 1

Visual:
Rocket launch and mission begin.
Description:

Commander Weezer begins his historic mission to explore the lunar surface in search of the greatest treasure known to dachshunds: cheese.

FRAME 2

Visual:
First paw prints on the "moon."
Description:
Touchdown is successful. Initial scans indicate soft, sandy terrain with excellent conditions for exploration.

FRAME 3

Visual:
Weezer sniffing the ground.
Description:
Commander Weezer begins a detailed scientific investigation of the mysterious white landscape.
Mission Log: "Possible cheese detected..."

FRAME 4

Visual:
Commander Weezer encounters local wildlife.
Description:
Mission Log: Local wildlife: Hostile. A giant lunar creature interrupts the expedition. Fortunately, it appears more interested in escorting the commander than eating him.

FRAME 5

Visual:
Close-up of footprints or Weezer looking around.
Description:
Further analysis reveals the strange white surface is, unfortunately, not made of cheese.
Mission Log: "Oxygen... probably."

FRAME 6

Visual:
Final hero shot.
Description:
Mission accomplished. Commander Weezer returns home with valuable scientific data and absolutely no cheese.
Final Transmission:
One small step for dog...
One giant leap for dachshund-kind...
Still no treats or cheese.
